Peace and Good Will

LOS ANGELES, FEB. 16—If you mean to retire with a little rest and leisure before the end, DO IT. Don't wait.

Death does not wait, especially if you work beyond the natural time. Eddie Foy, popular actor, 73 years old, on his way to California "to rest, and end the balance of my life," thought he would work "just a little longer."

He is dead now, in Kansas City, where he worked literally until he died. Heart disease struck him yesterday morning just after he had left the stage.

An athlete, breaker of records, with big lungs and chest expansion, was amazed when the life insurance doctor told him "You are a bad risk. We can't take you." Next to no exercise, the dangerous thing is over-exercise. You can develop muscles almost without limit. But you have only one heart, and it will stand only so much.

It is pleasant to admire, to see and to travel this world so wide. It is a good thing also to remember your birthplace and your own people, convinced that both are the best in the world.

W. H. Genoble has a good permanent job with the railroad at Barstow, here in beautiful California, and likes it.

"But," says he, as he takes your baggage checks, "the best State in the Union is South Carolina. I have 132 acres, 12 miles from Spartansburg, in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, and that is where I am going soon to start a dairy farm. Would you have a water pressure tank underground or on a platform up in the air? South Carolina has got more water power than any State. It is finer in every way than every other State. If the people knew about it as I do, it would be so crowded you couldn't move around." Such citizens, enthusiasm and loyalty build this Nation.

Christianity came to establish peace on earth and good will to men. But the establishment is slow. Roman Catholics and "Orthodox" members of the Greek Church, meeting in the Holy Nativity Chapel in Jerusalem, engage in violent fist fights. Great Britain, with the Palestine mandate, is criticized for not policing the place more thoroughly.

The British say they do not want "to complicate their mandate." No wonder. Insert in your prayers a few words of

SISTER SOBS AS SLAIN GIRL'S TRINKETS ARE PLACED BEFORE JURY

While tears streamed from the eyes of the dead girl's sister, the five-and-ten-cent store "diamond" ring and other trinkets that belonged to Grace Mills, were shown to the jury today in Middlesex Superior Court, where Joseph Foster Buckley, 23-year-old Weston youth, is on trial for murder.

The jewelry was produced by Police Lieut. Peter J. Tracy of Waltham at the demand of the defense, and when Tracy exhibited a tiny white gold wrist watch Dorothy Mills, a daily attendant at the trial with her mother, buried her face in her hands and sobbed.

LEVIATHAN RUNS ASHORE BUT TUGS PULL HER OFF

Southampton, Eng., Feb. 17 (AP)—The United States liner Leviathan went ashore near Calshot at the head of Southampton water on her arrival here today, but, aided by four tugs, she moved astern and it appeared she would be able to proceed to her dock.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP)—Harold A. Cunningham, wartime navigating officer of the Leviathan, recently appointed commodore of the United States Lines fleet, was making his first trip as captain of the great liner when it went ashore near Southampton today.

Captain Cunningham succeeded Capt. Herbert Hartley, whose resignation became effective when the Leviathan last docked here.

Among prominent names on the passenger list were those of Eamon de Valera, Irish Republican leader; Ogden H. Hammond, United States ambassador to Spain, and his family, and Frank A. Vanderlip, financier.

REED CHARGES I. C. C. COERCED BY COAL MEN

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—Intimidation of certain members of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the lake cargo coal rate case by a political influence emanating from Pennsylvania and running into the White House itself was charged today in the Senate by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri.

Asserting the commission had reversed itself in this case so as to favor the coal operators of Pennsylvania over those in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, Senator Reed declared it had rendered a decision "not only revolutionary and unjust," but "probably Worcester, Feb. 17 (AP)—Five firemen and one policeman were overcome, 75 guests were driven into the street and damage that will exceed $60,000 was caused when fire swept through the new Bay State Hotel, on Main st., early today. Two alarms were sounded.

Many of the guests had to be assisted to the street, including several showgirls appearing with a burlesque troupe.

A group of professional entertainers, undeterred by the fire, gave vocal and musical selections in the lobby while the firemen fought the blaze.

TWO DIE IN DIVE FROM CHELSEA BRIDGE

New York, Feb. 17 (AP)—Percy Jay Fuller, formerly engaged in business under the name of Morgan Harwood & Co., investment brokers, was indicted today by the Federal Grand Jury for using the mails to defraud. Asst. U. S. Atty. Peck said Fuller's operations had brought him more than $1,000,000.

RABIES KILL CANTON BOY; NEGLECT CHARGED

Death from rabies, described "horrible" and a very rare occurrence in medical annals, was the fate today of Everett Slokin, 10, of Canton, at Massachusetts General Hospital.

His death was charged to "willful neglect" to use known preventive measures by Dr. George H. Bigelow, State commissioner of public health.

Slokin is the first person to die from rabies in this State for years, due to the almost universal use of Pasteur methods of treatment. He was bitten by a dog in Canton on January 6.

Alarming symptoms did not develop until today. The boy was rushed by auto to the hospital in Boston where he died in a few hours.

"This case occurred while the Metropolitan area, Canton included, was supposedly restraining all dogs," said Commissioner Bigelow. "The dog could not be located by the police and the records of the department of conservation show no

BOTH BODIES FOUND AFTER TRUCK TAKES PLUNGE IN MYSTIC

Trapped in the cab, two men were drowned today in Little Mystic river when a five-ton truck tore through the rail of the Chelsea south drawbridge in Chelsea st., Charlestown, and dove 50 feet into the water.

The truck driver was Charles Leavitt, 21, single of North Weymouth.

Leavitt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leavitt of 29 Newton st. He had been employed by his present concern for three months.

His companion, unidentified, is believed to have been either a friend or a man to whom Leavitt was giving a ride.

In its drop from bridge to stream, the truck, loaded with seven blocks of granite, turned completely over and when it came to rest only a few inches of a rear wheel tire were showing above water.

Leavitt's body was taken from behind the steering wheel in the truck cab, after Floating Crane 14 from the Boston Navy Yard had lifted the inverted truck to the surface.

The body of the second man was pulled off the river bottom with a boat hook after raising of the truck. As this body came to the surface, the lunch box of one of the drowned men floated to the top also.

It is believed the driver lost control of the [illegible] chain snapped, [illegible] the heavy vehicle into a skid and snapping the wheels out of the car tracks, in

LINDY TO SEE MOTHER AWARDED MEDAL IN HUB

In the presence of her son, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh will be presented with a gold medal as an "outstanding mother," in Boston the last of this month.

The presentation will be made by the department of superintendence of the National Education Association at its annual convention from February 28 to March 1.

With thousands of educators present, the decoration of the Detroit school teacher will undoubtedly prove to be the feature of the convention.

The program has not been worked out as yet, but it is understood Mrs. Lindbergh will fly to Boston in one plane, while "Lindy" pilots the other half of the famous "we" to this city. It is understood the War Department and the National Aeronautics Association are co-operating in the program, especially as regards the flight to Boston.

BODY OF 'LOST' MOTHER FOUND IN THE CHARLES

The search for Mrs. [illegible] Hutchinson of Glen rd., Weston, which has been going on since Monday, ended today when the woman's body was recovered from the Charles river in Weston by Sergt. Daniel McLeod of the Metropolitan Park police and a squad of officers.

The policemen were dragging the river, with two officers in a boat and the others on the banks, when the body was discovered and taken to the Auburndale station of the Metropolitan police, where it was identified.

Mrs. Hutchinson's disappearance was reported by her husband, Charles [illegible] Hutchinson, who said she had left the house Monday morning after being up several nights with one of the two children. A search was begun in which scores of police and Boy Scouts took part, the woods in the vicinity of Glen rd. being combed without success.

AT BROTHER'S LIFE TRIAL

GIRL SAYS GRACE LOVED BUCKLEY
Muriel Fuller of Waltham, a witness for the defense in the Buckley trial, told of arranging a "date" for Grace Mills and Buckley and how "she loved him."

RELATIVES VISIT BUCKLEY IN COURT
Mrs. Teresa Jones and Leo Buckley, who, for the first time since the trial began, visited East Cambridge Court today where Foster Buckley is on trial for his life, charged with the murder of Grace Mills.

CAN'T FIND 'DEATH COAT'

An hour and a quarter before today's session opened, every seat in the courtroom was filled. Before 8 o'clock a crowd was waiting outside the building before the doors were opened.

The ring was given to Grace by Buckley, according to the defense, to bind his heart to her while he was away on a contemplated trip to Vermont—a trip that never was made because of the tragedy and Buckley's arrest.

Following the showing of the jewelry and other exhibits, Miss Muriel Fuller of Crescent st., Waltham, testified as a defense witness and declared that "Grace liked Buckley better than any other fellow."

"On the Sunday before she died, Grace was at my house and asked my mother to tell Foster Buckley she wanted to see him Tuesday," said Miss Fuller. It has previously been shown that Buckley called on Grace that Tuesday afternoon and that this visit was followed, at midnight, by the fatal auto ride.

NOT IN MIDDLESEX

Another witness testified that Buckley, while apparently dying after having shot himself in Waltham at the end of the ride, murmured, "She shot and I shot."

Other testimony was introduced to show the shooting of the girl, whether suicide or murder, occurred in Southboro, Worcester County, and not in Middlesex County.

In addition to Grace Mills' jewelry and trinkets, the floor board of Buckley's automobile and a rubber mat from the car were shown to the jury by the defence. Buckley is charged with killing the girl in his automobile.

Police Lieutenant Tracy, under questioning by defense Atty. George L. Ellsworth, disclosed that he had tried unsuccessfully to find or get possession of Grace's coat and the shoes or slippers she wore the night of her death.

The slippers are considered of importance to show whether Grace walked to an arranged trysting place at midnight on November 15 to join Buckley, or whether she was taken forcibly from her sick bed on the sleeping porch, as contended by her family.

LAWYERS CLASH AGAIN.

A clash between the district attorney and Attorney Ellsworth as bitter as any they have engaged in during the trial arose when Ellsworth demanded that Dist. Atty. Bushnell produce the floor board and mat, Bushnell asking with unveiled sarcasm:

"What do you want—all the furniture in my office?" He finally which it was proceeding from Chelsea toward Boston.

Swerving sharply, the truck bumped up over the sidewalk almost opposite the Bunker Hill Yacht Club, tore through the metal-pipe bridge rails, dipped its front wheels over the bridge edge and then was pulled down, the granite blocks tumbling out as the truck turned over.

The two men seated in the cab had no chance to escape.

Marines stationed at the Chelsea Naval Hospital, 300 yards back along the highway the truck had just traversed, raced for the scene on hearing the crash.

Trolley and automobile traffic both ways in Chelsea st. halted while scores of men poured out of the vehicles and rushed for the spot.

From various places along Chelsea st. telephone calls were sent to the police by a dozen volunteers.

Police Supt. [illegible] immediately ordered officers sent to the scene from all intown stations. Capt. George W. Patterson, head of the liquor squad, sent his reserves to the scene, including Oscar Ely and David Roche.

From the navy yard, half a mile away, the tug 71 and crane 18 were [illegible]. The [illegible] boat Watchman and Coast Guard boat CG 2327 also were sent. Chief Boatswain's Mate H. H. Reyers was in command of the tug and Capt. Joseph Quinn was in command of the crane.

A chain was fixed to the truck and it was hauled up until almost the entire chassis was above water. Then in a [illegible], Sergt. Lawrence Dunn of the harbor police and Patrolman William [illegible] and Glenn Kimball pulled out the body of Leavitt.

LEFT MYSTIC DOCKS.

The truck was raised further and was placed aboard the crane, while the bodies of Leavitt and his companion were taken aboard the Watchman and conveyed to Constitution wharf for examination by the medical examiner.

Capt. Michael J. Goff of the Charlestown station took charge of the detail of police on land in the relieving of the traffic tieup.

According to Karl Fredericksen of 12 Quarry st., Quincy, by whom Leavitt was employed as chauffeur, the truck had just left the Mystic docks with seven blocks of granite. Fredericksen did not know the man riding with Leavitt, but believed him either to be friend of Leavitt or a man being given a "lift" by the driver.

John F. Burke of 194 Freeport st., Dorchester, driver of a tank truck directly in back of the granite truck, told police he saw Leavitt's [illegible] drive chain snap and whip out between the wheels.

"Then the truck, which had been riding in the car tracks, swerved sharply to the right and I heard the brakes squeal. But the rail went down and the front wheels crashed over the edge of the bridge. The truck tipped, then went upside down and disappeared."

FRIENDS CARRY PETITION TO WILLINGDON

Montreal, Que., Feb. 17 (AP)—Lord Willingdon, governor-General of Canada, will be asked to intercede in behalf of Doris Palmer McDonald, in jail here sentenced to death with her husband, George McDonald. It is understood those interested will ask Viscount Willingdon to commute the sentence to life imprisonment. The jury that found the couple guilty recommended mercy for the woman.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 17 (INS)—"Why don't they catch Frank McMullen? How do they know the guilty man didn't escape and let two innocent people suffer for him?"

These questions were asked today by Mrs. J. McDonald of Portland, Me., after visiting her son, George McDonald, at Bordeaux jail. McDonald and his beautiful wife, Doris, are awaiting death for the murder of Adelard Bouchard, taxi driver. McMullen, alias Vance, who was indicted with the McDonalds, is missing.

After visiting her son, Mrs. McDonald also visited her daughter-in-law, Doris Palmer McDonald, at the Asile Ste. Darie (women's jail) in Montreal, to sympathize with the Oklahoma girl who will share her husband's fate on March 16 on the scaffold unless Canadian justice authorities decide that either or both deserve clemency.

McDonald is reported to have told Governor Seguin of Bordeaux jail that he married Doris in Seattle last April that she might be in line for a legacy from an uncle of McDonald, Lord Rory, a Scottish nobleman. Apparently McDonald could not inherit unless married, according to his statements.

The condemned man's mother declared that there was no incentive for McDonald to do murder, as he was amply provided with funds. Robbery, she said, could not have been the motive. It was testified at the trial, however, that McDonald cashed forged checks in Montreal on the day before Bouchard was killed.

SCORES OFFER SKIN TO SAVE BURNED BOY

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 17 (INS)—Young and old continued to offer themselves for skin grafting operations today to save the life of 11-year-old Leslie Landrum, who was seriously burned from hips to feet when his father accidentally threw burning oil over the boy.

Scores have volunteered for the operations and transplanting will continue for weeks. More than 50 pieces of skin were grafted to the boy's body from two small girls yesterday.

The operations are painful, but the skin donors and the boy do not complain. Thousands of pieces of skin will have to be transplanted to Leslie's body, his physicians said.

While the supply of volunteers is now more than can be used, eventually a great many more will be needed.

Shackled to two deputy sheriffs in a closed car, while another machine loaded with Cambridge police inspectors followed close behind, Jerry Gedzium, alias Jerry the Pole, condemned to die the week of February 26, was transported from East Cambridge jail to State prison today.

The short trip over the Prison Point bridge was made without event, and Gedzium was received by Warden William Hendry and installed in Cell 1 in the death house within 15 minutes after he left East Cambridge.

It was learned that for several days past the East Cambridge jail has been under surveillance by Cambridge inspectors in charge of Capt. Patrick J. Hurley, apparently in the fear that an attempt would be made to free Gedzium.

The prisoner was led out of the jail handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Alvah S. Baker and Jail Officer Albert Belcher, accompanied by Sheriff John R. Fairbairn. The three entered a closed machine with as much secrecy as possible, and the car whirled away, closely followed by another loaded with inspectors.

DOG BESIEGES BLOCK; SLAIN BY POLICEMAN

Besieging four families in a Cambridge tenement, a vicious mongrel dog was shot by Sergt. Patrick J. Healy today after an 11-year-old boy was lowered through a second-story window to give the alarm.

The boy ran to the Third st. station and, breathless, stuttered the information that a big dog was guarding the entrance to 112 Seventh st., snapping and growling at everyone that tried to enter or leave.

Sergt. Healy hurried to the address in the patrol wagon, opened the front door and as the dog made a lunge at him with bared fangs, shot him through the head.

The dog had taken his position in the doorway early this morning.

Shoes, sticks and even kitchen utensils were rained down upon the mongrel's head, but he remained on guard.

Meantime the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Spirito wanted to go to school. Each time they attempted to go down the stairs the dog leaped for them.

Little Benny Gubets, 11, who lives next door, was visiting at the Spirito flat waiting for his companions to go to school. He finally went out the second floor window on a short length of rope which was tied to a bed post.

Holds 13 Spades at Bridge and Makes a Grand Slam

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—A. J. Moran, an Erie railroad auditor, playing bridge in the club car of a Detroit-to-Washington train, held 13 spades and didn't know what to bid. Twenty other bridge fans on the same car dropped their cards and tried to tell him.

Moran, ignoring advice, bid four spades and cleaned the board.

Those who played with Moran were E. R. Woodson, secretary of the Railway Accounting Officers' Association, who opened the bid with one heart; Atty. Martin, Southern railway freight official, who bid two diamonds, and T. H. Maxwell of Baltimore, two hearts.

New Bedford, Feb. 17 (INS)—Dist. Atty. William C. Crosley today ordered an autopsy performed upon the bodies of Miss Sarah Tootle, beauty parlor owner, and Charles Simone, Providence salesman. The two bodies were found in an apartment earlier in the week.

This action was unexpected here because of the verdict of death from carbon monoxide gas rendered by Associate Medical Examiner Charles Shanks. Some officials thought a gas heater had been tampered with.

SINCLAIR AND BURNS TRIAL NEAR END

Washington, Feb. 17 (INS)—The end of the long-drawn-out contempt trial of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man; William J. Burns, international detective, and their associates neared today when the defense rested and the Government offered no rebuttal testimony.

The case, which has dragged for more than 10 weeks through a legal labyrinth in District Supreme Court, grew out of the shadowing of the jury in the oil conspiracy trial of Sinclair and ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. The Government alleged Burns detectives, hired by Sinclair, maintained improper surveillance over the jury, which resulted in a mistrial.

Final arguments were to begin at once.

Justice Siddons agreed to drop contempt charges against Chas. L. Veitsch, manager of the Baltimore branch of the Burns agency, leaving charges against Sinclair, Burns and his son and Mason Day, a Sinclair oil official. It was shown Veitsch's only connection with the shadowing of the jurors was in bringing money from the Baltimore office to pay detectives.

the most arbitrary yet handed down by a federal board or tribunal."

Speaking on the eve of his departure on a stumping tour which is to take him across the continent, the Missouri Democrat said it was "hard to escape the conclusion that the Interstate Commerce Commission reversed itself because it sat under the 'shadow of the suspended sword of Pennsylvania,'" wielded by Senator Reed of that state, who, the Missourian said, "possessed the advantage of long experience and intimate association with the Secretary of the Treasury."

He reminded the Senate that his Pennsylvania cousin had opposed the nomination of Thomas F. Woodlock, of New York, to the commission until he had had assurance from the White House that Pennsylvania would be considered in the next appointment.

"The term of Commissioner Cox, one of the commissioners who had concurred in the majority opinion (against the Pennsylvania operators) was about to expire.

"He had been a good commissioner. So far as I know, neither his ability nor fidelity had ever been questioned.

"But Pennsylvania had to be taken care of."

The Missourian then told of the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania to succeed Cox and of the rejection of his nomination by the Senate, because he had been connected with the Pennsylvania coal industry, both as attorney and stockholder.

"But, nevertheless, the removal of Cox had removed one of the obstacles to the reversal of the case.

"The term of Commissioner Esch was about to expire. His emoluments and honors were, of course, dependent upon reappointment.

"I doubt not that the commissioner often viewed with disconsolate eyes Cox's scalp already suspended from the pole of the Reed tepee. He naturally desired to avoid a similar fate.

"Cox has been removed, and upon rehearing, although the case had been fully tried in the first instance and there had been no change in conditions, Esch and Aitchison changed their votes and rendered a decision fixing the differential at the point demanded by the Pennsylvania interests."

view with International News Service, admitted that "check writing" had been a favorite pastime of their touring days. Both were destitute of funds during the trial and were defended by counsel who worked without fees.

A monster petition from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., secured by the McDonald defence committee there and by Wolfango E. Cribari as its attorney, is expected to reach Department of Justice authorities at any time, while similar clemency pleas from other American sources are in course of preparation. Mrs. McDonald formerly lived in Mt. Vernon.

LOVE TRINKETS OF SLAIN GIRL ARE SHOWN

sent an assitant to get the desired objects.

"I asked Grace Mills' family and relatives for her coat, but they couldn't find it," testified Lieut. Tracy. "I went up to her home twice for her shoes or slippers, but these could not be found, either.

"Although I have had her other belongings in my personal charge since her death was discovered, I have never been able to find coat or shoes."

Asked by the defence attorney if he knew these objects were important, he said he knew they were very important.

PRODUCES TRINKETS.

"Where is Grace's ring?" asked Atty. Ellsworth. Lieut. Tracy produced a cheap ring with a flashy "stone." He later took an envelope from his pocket and laid the wrist watch and other things on the shelf of the witness stand.

"Where did you get that ring?" he was asked, and he replied: "It was left at the police station for me by Dr. Gallagher, the medical examiner, a week or so after the shooting."

"Dr. Gallagher found it in the pocket of Grace Mills' dress, didn't he?"

"I don't know where he found it."

"Didn't you think it important to find out where he got it?"

"Well, I thought it belonged to Grace Mills."

"Isn't that the ring that Herbert Smith said looked like one Joseph Buckley bought ten days before the shooting to give to Grace, his sweetheart?"

"Yes."

Atty. Ellsworth then had the automobile floor board and rubber mat brought into court.

Buckley claims Grace Mills shot herself. In outlining the defense two days ago, Atty. Ellsworth told the jurors the defendant showed Grace how his new automatic pistol worked, at her request, firing a shot through the floor of the car in demonstration.

DISPUTES GUN STORY.

"If I don't come back, I'll be up in Wayland," Buckley told his friend, Herbert Smith, before going to see Grace on the night of the death ride, according to Lieut. Tracy, who had questioned Smith in the investigation.

"Smith told me Buckley spoke of buying a gun, but Smith didn't know why," testified Tracy, contradicting testimony by Smith, who had declared that Buckley bought the gun for protection while on his trip.

Tracy said Smith read a written report of his answers to questions and then signed the report. Smith had testified he signed without reading it. The officer admitted he had not used a stenographer, although one was procurable.

The testimony regarding Buckley's "dying" words was given by George F. Lawler of Columbus ave., Waltham. Lawler saw Buckley lying on the sidewalk in Main st., Waltham, on the morning of November 16.

"I ran up and while leaning over him, he murmured, 'She shot and I shot,'" testified Lawler. "I saw the girl's body in the car and looked to see if she was dead. She was."

A government witness, Ralph Walker, testified previously that Buckley said, "She shot. She was suffering and I killed her." Lawler said Walker was there when he was and both were testifying about the same incident.

SPOKE IN WHISPER

"I heard nothing more than what I've quoted, and Walker never told me he heard anything more," added Lawler. "Buckley spoke barely above a whisper."

George W. Emerson of Central ave., Weston, told about helping Buckley plan his trip to the Vermont flood area where Buckley hoped to find work, according to defense claims.

"Hurry up," interposed District Attorney Bushnell to Atty. Ellsworth at this point, and the defense lawyer retorted, "You won't hurry me." Later Bushnell refused to cross-examine Emerson, saying, "I don't want to take any more time, or we'll be here till Christmas."

Ellsworth imitated his scornful tones and repeated his words in waving Emerson from the witness stand.

"Grace Mills told me she liked Foster Buckley and said he had used her better than any other fellow she ever knew," testified Muriel Fuller, the next witness. "She said he was good to her. That was in the Summer of 1927.

"Grace and her family called at our house the Sunday before her death. Just before they left Grace told my mother to tell Foster Buckley that she would like to see him at her home Tuesday at 1 o'clock."

Cross-examined, the girl witness admitted she got the impression Grace made the appointment in that way because she had not seen Buckley for some time.

Maps showing the boundaries of Middlesex and Worcester Counties and roads near them were shown by Arthur Larrabee of Lynn, an employe of the State department of public works, and William I. Thompson of Worcester.

FINDS BUCKLEY'S THINGS.

While changing a tire on the Causeway road, Southboro, Salvatore Campisi of Washington st., Newton, the next witness, found articles belonging to Buckley, he told the jury.

These articles were a bank book, insurance receipt, letter, a $10 bill and a scapula. Buckley's name was on the papers.

Campisi said he recalled having read in the Boston Evening American that Attorney Ellsworth was representing Buckley and so he took the things to Ellsworth's Boston office. The articles and the newspaper story were introduced as evidence and shown to the jury.

In spite of an effort by the prosecutor to prevent it, the hospital record of Buckley's case was admitted as evidence, Judge Dubuque ruling it material. Miss Alice Beeman of the staff of the Waltham Hospital testified that Buckley, with a bullet wound over the heart, was conscious when put to bed at the hospital. He was tossing and groaning with pain, she said, and morphine was administered.

11 SHAKEN UP IN EXPLOSION AT LEOMINSTER

Leominster, Feb. 17—Eleven employes of the Leominster Pyrotex Co. were hurled from their feet today in another building when a small brick-and-wood storehouse, filled with scrap celluloid, exploded from spontaneous combustin.

Within 5 minutes after the explosion, three score employes, some of them girls and women, were due back at the plant, following lunch hour.

The explosion ripped the small storage building to pieces and sent flaming celluloid flying through the area for many feet in every direction. None of the workers was injured.

The storage shed was destroyed, together with the scrap celluloid, and various sections of the main building were set on fire by the flaming fragments. Company officials estimated the damage by explosion and fire to be in the neighborhood of $5000.

HARTFORD YOUTH HELD AS "PHANTOM STABBER"

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 17 (AP)—Lorenzo Desmarais, 17, today admitted, police say, that he is the "phantom stabber" who attacked one woman in December and two in January on the streets of this city. An attempt will now be made to identify him as the Bridgeport "phantom" who has stabbed 26 women in that city during the last 33 months. Miss Bertha Talmadge.

EIGHT STAGE STRIKE IN LAWRENCE SHOP

Lawrence, Feb. 17—Eight employes of the Service Wood Heel Company in Blanchard st. walked out today on what they declared were orders from officials of the Shoe Workers' Protective Union of Haverhill. There are 250 employes in the Service Wood Heel Company, but only these eight are members of the Haverhill union, it was explained. They struck as part of a protest begun in Haverhill against reduction in wages. The eight workers began picketing immediately.

70 REBELS DIE IN MEXICAN BATTLES

Mexico City, Feb. 17 (AP)—Dispatches from Guadalajara today said more than 70 Catholic rebels fell under federal fire yesterday in a series of clashes in the state of Jalisco.

Three chieftains fell in battle. Two were captured and executed by municipal authorities. Another surrendered and another was said to have been seriously wounded.

On the different battlefields 48 rebels were actually counted dead. Eleven were taken prisoners and immediately executed.

Twenty-five were killed and seven captured and executed at Cimatlan by federal forces under Lieut.-Col. Agustin Torres.

Twelve were killed and two captured and executed by federal forces under Gen. Miguel Martinez at Rancho Viejo and Agua Nueva.

Simon Alarcon was slain at San Patricio. Former Col. Velasco died with nine followers in an encounter at Chachalacas.

The chieftains Magdaleno Galvez and Manuel Chaves were captured and executed at Sayula and Maxamitla, respectively. Francisco Loza is understood to have been seriously wounded at Tiapotlan del Rey. Several rebels were slain there and two captured and executed.

DR. STICKNEY AT RUTLAND IS 'TACTLESS'

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—An investigation of the Veterans' Hospital at Rutland, Mass., has disclosed no facts reflecting on the competency, integrity or professional ability of Col. Henry Ladd Stickney, medical officer in charge, it was announced today by Director Hines of the Veterans' bureau.

"I do find, however," Gen. Hines said, "that some of the complaints are substantiated and it appears that in some instances Col. Stickney has not exercised the tact and diplomacy necessary in dealing with sick men, and in these matters corrective steps will be or already have been taken."

A committee of professional men outside of the bureau, who visited the hospital at the director's request, confirmed the bureau's findings that efficient care and treatment are being administered to patients at the hospital.

NICHOLS' 'HUB CENSUS BILL' IS KILLED

Mayor Nichols' bill to have included in Boston for census purposes all cities and towns within the metropolitan district was today killed in the House when that body refused to substitute the measure for an adverse committee report.

"Under this bill Boston would rank fourth," Representative George Tinnan declared. "It is in no way a greater Boston bill as it merely places the city on a par with other large communities."

Representative Harold R. Duffie of Boston, for substitution, asserted it would increase the business of the hub in allocation of trade and aid all lines of business.

Opposed to the bill, Representative Lemuel W. Standish of Stoneham contended it was a move on the part of Mayor Nichols to bring about a Greater Boston, something, he said, the mayor has been seeking ever since he came into office. The united fire bill, which the Legislature had killed, he said, was another attempt.

Representative Henry L. Shattuck advised the House to stick to the truth in advertising. The committee, in reporting adversely, he said, merely lived up to that principle.

TWO STORE EMPLOYES GET SENTENCES FOR LARCENY

A floorwalker and a salesgirl received suspended sentences to the House of Correction and the Charles st. jail respectively today in Judge Parmenter's session of municipal court. They were charged with larceny.

Harold R. Smith of Museum rd., Fenway, received a suspended sentence of four months in the House of Correction. Mrs. Norine V. Faulkner of Benedict st., Somerville, was sentenced, on suspension to one month in Charles st. Special Officer Robert Lynch testified that the money was taken by manipulating fictitious refund slips.

MARINES HARD ON HEELS OF SANDINO

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR.

Matagalpa, Nicaragua, Feb. 17—Unconfirmed rumors from the vicinity of Jinotega indicate that a band of Sandinistas occupied La Trinidad and San Isidro, a few miles northeast of Jinotega, very recently.

It is also believed that several stores at those places, including property of the German consular agent here, whose name is Zuper, were raided to replenish the supplies of Sandino's forces.

It is taken for granted here that the marines are moving from the north toward Jinotega and that they may establish contact soon with Sandino or some of his bandits in that region. Native couriers arriving report that Gen. Ferrera is commanding the band at San Isidro. He is a Honduran long on the staff of Sandino. Full details of his connection with Nicaragua politics are in possession of the State Department at Washington.

Their relatives and friends in the United States will be glad to hear that Maj. Rockey's column after an all-day mule ride encamped at a friendly plantation northeast of here. They are expected to arrive at their objective point to block any attempt by Sandino to escape south through the Yasica Valley, where there are many valuable American and other foreign properties.

In spite of all efforts it is believed that much information is still reaching Sandino from Matagalpa. Leaders here say it is hard to understand why Washington still hesitates to back up the Diaz government in resorting to drastic measures to put a stop to this.

DRY LAW QUERY TO HIGH COURT OPPOSED

Asking the Supreme Court to pass on the legality of submitting the initiative petition of the Constitutional Liberty League to the voters on the repeal of the 18th Amendment, as recommended by the legislative Committee on Legal Affairs, was today opposed by former Assistant Atty.-Gen. Alexander Lincoln at a hearing before the House Rules Committee.

Lincoln quoted an opinion from the justices that there is no doubt as to the power of the Legislature to pass any bill within the limits of the Constitution, it sees fit, in amendment or alteration of these sections.

He also held that the Supreme Court would not return an answer to one of the two questions propounded, as it was too general in its character. He pointed out that the policy of the court is not to give an opinion on matters that may be subject to litigation later.

Professor Lewis J. Johnson of Harvard, in opposition to submitting such a referendum to the people, held that the use of the I. and R. for "such a trivial, because inconclusive purpose," was never intended by the framers.

Rev. Maynard E. S. Clemons of Wakefield, and Atty. Cornelius Parker pressed for the opinion.

DAGGETT LIMPS IN; SENATE FUNCTIONS

The first Friday session of the State Senate was saved today when Senator Warren C. Daggett of Somerville, recovering at his home from injuries sustained at a fire when he fell over a hose, was brought in on crutches to complete a quorum.

The session was called at 11 o'clock with no quorum present, meaning that the requisite 21 out of 40 members were not on hand. Nevertheless, President Wellington Wells decided to take up the regular business, which was done until it became necessary to act on the emergency preamble of a bill for which a quorum was absolutely required.

The messengers were sent out to round up missing senators, the telephones were put into use, and at 2 o'clock Senator Daggett limped into the chamber, amid cheers, making the 21st member.

For the past two years, Friday sessions of the Senate have not been held, and apparently many of the senators decided to ignore the call today.

As in Days of Old

Tucumcari, N. M., Feb. 17 (AP)—Swinging from his saddle at the door of the First National Bank at Nara Visa, N. M., a bandit on horseback held up Mrs. Blanche Watts, cashier, and escaped with several thousand dollars. Mrs. Watts was knocked unconscious. The robber took to his mount and fled to the hills.

Urges 150 Millions for Raising 'Honest Race'

Chicago, Feb. 16 (AP)—If dishonesty is the largest single item in the cost of business today the parents of a generation hence should foot the bill, for the rearing of an honest race lies with the parents, in the opinion of experts who addressed today's meetings of the midwest conference on character development.

So important is honesty in child training, said Dr. Joseph Jastrow, that the United States should spend $150,000,000 annually to make people honest, instead of "trying to keep them from drinking a little liquor."

Dishonesty is the greatest single expense to business today, he supplemented, and to make people honest children should be made honest.

Dr. Jastrow is associated with the new School for Social Research, New York City.

Crime tendencies in grade school children can be detected in three out of four cases, he said, adding "The apathetic child with under developed emotions is the most dangerous. Hickman, convicted slayer of Marian Parker, was of that type."

SHOULD 'LINDY' FLY? WHAT'S YOUR IDEA

SHOULD LINDY QUIT FLYING!

Secretary of War Davis thinks the world's greatest airman should confine his flights to hops of short duration over land or only small bodies of water.

Others think Col. Charles A. Lindbergh should hereafter stay upon the ground and not cause the world so much anxiety over his safety.

Still others, including the slim, tall hero of the New York to Paris epic, think he should keep right on in the interests of aviation. Lindy himself says he'll continue to fly if it kills him.

The votes received in the Boston Evening American's poll on Lindy's flying will be sent to the famous airman.

A majority of those whose opinions are given today, think Lindy should do only "safe flying." What do you think?

ACTING MAYOR THOMAS H. GREEN—"Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is such an asset to the United States that all perilous acrobatics of an unnecessary nature in the air should be eliminated. 'Lindy' has done so much for the advancement of aviation that if any harm should come to him the entire industry would receive a severe set-back.

POSTMASTER ROLAND M. BAKER—"I think it would be impossible to prevent Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from carrying on his flying adventures as they are undoubtedly the major interest in his life. However, I certainly think he should do no so-called 'stunt flying' and if he is doing such he should be advised against it. I believe with Col. Lindbergh that properly planned and executed straight flying, especially in his case, is reasonably safe."

CITY COLLECTOR GEORGE H. JOHNSON—"No one should direct Col. Lindbergh as to his flying. He is the master mind of aviation. He is director of his own achievements. I would consult Col. Lindbergh first and then issue orders afterwards.

"JIMMY" PARSONS, the 'flying' secretary in the mayor's office—"Secretary of War Davis has requested Col. Lindbergh to refrain from "stunt" flying. The only interpretation which can be made from this appeal relates to circus flying such a loops, barrel rolls, tail spins, etc. Lindbergh always knows where the landing field is when doing any stunts and his altitude is always sufficient to glide back in case his motor should go dead. Let him fly."

EDWARD DUNGAN, secretary of the aviation committee of the Massachusetts department, American Legion—"Leave Lindy alone. He knows what he is doing. With his experience, he is not taking any undue risks."

LOUIS K. ROURKE, building commissioner—"I believe Col. Lindbergh a pretty level-headed aviator. And to date he has shown that he is a remarkable fellow. He will use his good common sense and do as he pleases."

FRANCIS E. SLATTERY, chairman of the Schoolhouse department: "The record that Colonel Lindbergh has left behind after a year of flying indicates to me the soundest kind of judgment. He should have the free use of that judgment. His record also indicates that he knows aviation better than any other aviator that has come to the world's attention."

SIX BREAKS ARE MADE BY THIEVES IN CAMBRIDGE

Reports filed at Cambridge police headquarters today revealed the visits of thieves in six different places. Jewelry valued at several hundred dollars was stolen from the apartment of Russell Hehe at 6 Crawford st. Six new tires were taken from the Columbia Auto Parts Station at 305 Western ave.

Cigarettes, cigars and edibles were taken from the variety store at 2512 Massachusetts ave., and Dorr's market at 39 Brattle st. was entered. A pocketbook containing a small sum of money was taken from the home of Mrs. Judah H. Green at 26 Mellen st. An attempt to crack the safe of the Greek Orthodox Church was unsuccessful.

BODY WASHED UP BY TIDE MAY BE DOLE PRIZE FLIER

Ventura, Cal., Feb. 17 (AP)—The body of what once was a well-built, athletic man of 30 was being held by authorities here today in an attempt to learn whether it was one of the long missing Dole fliers. It was brought in by the tide.

The body had been in the water for several months and had but one outward identifying mark—a black taffeta neckerchief, like those worn by American sailors. First guesses were that it might be the body of Lieut. Vilas R. Knope, U. S. N., navigator of the ill-fated Dole flight plane, Miss Doran.

Should Lindy Fly? What Is Your Opinion?

Secretary of War Davis wants Lindy to abandon long non stop flights. Others want him to give up flying entirely. My opinion is that:

1—Lindbergh should give up flying entirely...... ☐
2—Lindbergh should continue to fly, but eliminate long non-stop flights........................ ☐
3—Lindbergh should eliminate stunt flying—acrobatics .... ☐
4—Lindbergh should continue flying without any reservations whatever .... ☐

LINDY 'BEST OF ENVOYS'—DAVIS

St. Louis, Feb. 17 (AP)—Secretary of War Davis in a telegram sent from Midland City, O., to a Lindbergh banquet here said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in his goodwill flight "has done more to promote good relations in South America than the whole diplomatic corps."

"He should have remained in Havana," the telegram said "as diplomats seem up in the air and lost in the fog. Hope you can keep him (Lindbergh) on the ground at least six out of the 24 hours."

Another telegram from President Coolidge congratulated Lindbergh on his flight and expressed the President's pleasure that Lindbergh had returned safely.

The flier was the guest of honor at a dinner given by Harry F. Knight, St. Louis investment banker.

GOVERNMENT SELLS LAST TRADE SHIPS IN PACIFIC

Washington, Feb. 17 (INS)—President Coolidge's program to get the government out of shipping is accomplished so far as the Pacific Coast is concerned. PROGRAM FOR BIG NAVY IS INDORSED BY D. A. R.

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—The administration's warship construction program was indorsed today before the House Naval Committee by Mrs. William Sherman Walker, vice president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution who urged members to turn a deaf ear to the appeals of pacifists.

She said: "We would invoke you to listen to the voices of constructionists and to ignore the demands of obstructionists. If our country were in trouble who would rally to its call, the people who are standing with you for an enlarged navy or the people who are standing against you?"

FAIL TO DEFINE INDEPENDENCE AT HAVANA

Havana, Feb. 17 (AP)—The sub-committees of the Pan-American conference today pushed on with their work in an effort to clean up before the conference adjourns on Monday.

The sub-committee of the Pan-American Union met this morning on a definition of the word independence and planned to present a report to the full committee later in the day. The gist of this committee report will be a recommendation to refer a definition of the fundamental rights and duties of states to some future conference.

The Argentine delegate was absent from the session as were several others.

The sub-committee which is considering the pacific settlement of international disputes went into session and was hopeful of being able to make preliminary recommendations on the subject before the conference adjourned Monday.

Chairman Guerrero of the public international law committee, said the committee intended to complete consideration of a convention specifying all formalities regarding treaties and also one defining the rights and duties of diplomats and consuls.

QUIT NIGHT TOIL IN SALEM MILL

Salem, Feb. 17 (AP)—Announcement was made today that the night shift at the Naumkeag mills would be suspended for the present starting Monday. About 500 operatives of the textile plant are affected, some of whom will be employed on the day force.

Over-production, with a slight slump in the market, is given as the reason.

Woonsocket, Feb. 17 (AP)—Notices were posted today in the local and Millville, Mass., plants of the Woonsocket Rubber Company announcing that 1500 employes will be laid off from March 16 to April 1. The open winter, resulting in lack of demand for rubber footwear, was given as the reason.

GIRL OF 17 AND FATHER OF 3 MISSING

Two communities, Groveland and Watertown, are at fever heat today over the simultaneous disappearance of pretty Alice Fuller, 17-year-old high school girl of the former town, and Harry E. Hanrahan, father of three children living in Watertown.

Mrs. Hanrahan is prostrated at her home, and word has gone out as far as the Canadian border to be on the lookout for the pair.

Chief of Police Nelson of Groveland, who is directing the search, said that information had been furnished to him that the girl and Hanrahan had been seen together riding out of Groveland in an automobile late Tuesday night.

Officials of the Ward Baking Company, by whom Hanrahan was employed, have complained to the police that Hanrahan failed to turn in his receipts of approximately $100 on Tuesday.

The parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller of Main st., Groveland, have informed the police that Hanrahan, posing as a single man had been calling frequently on their daughter, who is a junior in the Groveland high school.

Hanrahan was employed as a salesman for the baking company, delivering in Haverhill, Groveland, South Groveland and Plaistow, N. H. He had been on the route for about a year.

According to information gained by police he became friendly with the Fuller girl last summer while she was working in a bakery during the summer months. Since that time he had been calling frequently at the Fuller home in Groveland, police were told, and the parents of the girl had understood that he was a single man.

Tuesday night Miss Fuller left her home, without her parents' permission. A girl chum of the Fuller girl, Pollyn Hickox of Groveland, told police that she met the couple Tuesday night and that they drove her to the high school in an automobile which Hanrahan was operating.

At the Hanrahan home in Watertown, Mrs. Hanrahan declined to talk with reporters and would give no information regarding her husband.

Police of Groveland learned from her that she had not seen her husband for several days.

Descriptions of both the girl and Hanrahan were broadcast by police, who at the same time notified immigration authorities at Canadian border stations to be on the watch for them.

Unable to 'Stick 'Em Up,' But Robbed of $75

With a 25-pound bag of coal under each arm, Frank Riglone, proprietor of a grocery store in Tapley ave., Revere, was proceeding afoot to the home of a customer today when a holdup man stepped out of an automobile and placed a gun two inches from his nose.

"Stick 'em up!" commanded the highwayman.

"Stick what up?" inquired Riglone.

"Your hands. Stick up your hands!"

"Say, mister, how do I stick up m, hands with a bag of coal in each one?"

This perfectly logical argument had its strong points, the robber conceded. "I guess you're right. Well, hang on to the coal and tell me which pocket your dough is in."

Not to be outdone in this show of courtesy, Riglone replied that his funds were resting temporarily in his right-hand trousers' pocket.

The money, between $75 and $80, was removed, the holdup man departed in the auto, at the wheel of which waited a confederate, and Riglone was left contemplating the utter helplessness of a man burdened down with two hefty bags of coal.

RAIN TONIGHT, THEN COLDER

Two storm areas, one developing on the Gulf Coast and the other in Iowa, threaten New England with either rain or snow over the coming week-end.

Before these disturbances descend on the Atlantic seabord they will be preceded by a decided drop in temperature here tomorrow afternoon or night.

A cold snap today chilled the entire northern boundary of the country from the lake region to the Rockies, reducing the mercury to 14 below at Winnipeg and carrying its assault slowly eastward in the direction of this section.

WOMAN IS BURNED IN BACK BAY EXPLOSION

Mrs. Oscar H. Simmons of 50 Commonwealth ave., was burned about the hands today when alcohol fumes, ignited by a lighted gas stove, caused fire in her apartment. The woman was rubbing her hands with alcohol, she told police. Frank Norton of Lawrence st., Roxbury, passing the apartment house, saw smoke coming out of the second apartment and rang an alarm. Damage to the apartment was estimated at $2000.

Maria Jeritza

SYMPHONY HALL
February 19, 3:30 P. M.

Maria Jeritza is a singer whose art admits of few rivals. Her voice, strong, commanding, keen, vivid, has won her immense public favor. Attend this concert. You will realize how individual her singing is—how dramatic. But not a tone of her perfect technique, not a nuance of her methods can evade the recording of the new Orthophonic Victrola. That is why the Jeritza Records are so amazing. Go to a dealer in Victor products for a demonstration. Ask to listen to "Erlkönig" (The Erl-King) (Schubert) (6704). You will want to take it home.

TO LEGALIZE 'STOP' AND 'GO' SIGNALS

A bill to legalize "stop" and "go" signals for traffic was today filed with the Legislature by Representative Abraham C. Casson of Boston.

He characterized the statement by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin to the effect that such signals are now in violation of the law as "unfortunate."

"It will cause untold confusion among autoists who have come to respect such signals and may result in serious damage and hurt," he said.

14 DIE IN U. S. TANKER BLAST

Tokyo, Feb. 17 (AP)—The captain and 13 members of the crew of the American oil tanker Chuky were killed when the vessel exploded at sea last Wednesday. A trawler arrived here today and landed 21 survivors of the disaster, several of whom were injured. The tanker was en route from San Pedro, Cal., to Japan. It left San Pedro January 19.

HURT AT FITCHBURG FIRE IN BOY RESCUE

Fitchburg, Feb. 17—Raoul Amiott, a city employe, was bruised, cut about the face and knocked unconscious today while attempting to rescue a ten-year-old boy in a burning tenement house at 24 Kimball pl., from which 12 women and children were driven out.

$250,000 FIRE SWEEPS BIG MILL AT PROVIDENCE

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17 (AP)—A $250,000 fire partly destroyed the Rhode Island Processing Co.'s mill at Coventry Center early today. The blaze was said to have started from combustion of waste.

"Big Stick" Dropped for Dress Suits by N. Y. Dry Raiders

New York, Feb. 17 (INS)—As an aftermath of Dry Chief Maurice Campbell's Washington apology for the "strong arm" raiding of the apartment of a Rumanian legation attache here, his men have sheathed the big stick in favor of treading lightly.

A squad of prohibition agents early today descended on the Jungle Club in a foray conspicuous for its mildness. The raid was in striking contrast to the axe visitation Campbell's agents recently made. Some of the raiders wore dress suits.

Four men and three quarts of alleged liquor were netted in the Jungle Club. The men were charged with violating the Volstead Act.

The 50 guests present were treated decorously and told not to be alarmed.

IGNORES HIS $2900 ROLL WHEN JAILED AS DRUNK

Lawrence, Feb. 17 (AP)—The tidy sum of $2900 is nothing at all in the life of Tony Zubrick, Jr., alias Charles Plasco, of Los Angeles, Calif. So local police decided today when Zubrick reported in district court as a defaulter and was given five days in jail for drunkenness. He never mentioned the $2900 the police removed from his person for safe keeping after his arrest Saturday night. However, the court was told that Zubrick defaulted bail of $1400 in his home city on a charge of violating the liquor laws and his roll is now in jeopardy.

DEVENS SHARES IN NEW ARMY HOUSE BILL

Washington, Feb. 17 (INS)—To speed up the Army housing program, Representative James (Rep.) of Michigan, in behalf of a sub-committee of the House Military Affairs Committee, today introduced a bill authorizing $112,664,950 for construction.

The bill would bring authorizations under the Army's $100,000,000 housing plan up to $32,000,000, and provide quarters for 470 officers and 6000 enlisted men.

The projects include Camp Devens, Mass., $350,000, officers and non-com. quarters.

$5,000,000 AUDITORIUM FOR BOSTON IS OPPOSED

The bill of M. A. O'Brien, Jr., of Dorchester, authorizing Boston to construct a $5,000,000 municipal auditorium in connection with the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of the city in 1930, was opposed at a hearing today by the House rules committee.

Elijah Adlow, special counsel for the city, and Chairman Charles L. Carr of the Finance Commission, entered their dissent. Adlow pointed to the North Station development as a major reason why the bill should not be admitted.

Lynn Jail Is Voted Best Host; So Easy to Quit!

New York, Feb. 17—"Yes, as jails go, the one at Lynn, Mass., is by far the nicest I have ever been in. I'll go back there, if you don't mind."

Smiling in anticipation, Thomas Martin, 25, submitted to arrest today by Detectives Furey and Moran of the safe and loft squad, who declares he is a fugitive from justice, having escaped from the Massachusetts lockup.

"Why are you so anxious to go back?" he was asked.

"Well, for one thing, it is the easiest place I know to escape from," the connoisseur replied. "They have a swell radio, too, and a guy can play pinochle all day long.

"When it becomes boring, it's a cinch to walk out."

SAYS "SLAYER" TRIED TO SELL FURNITURE

Salem, Feb. 17 (AP)—Efforts which James Kamanis made to sell furniture in his lunchroom in Peabody shortly after the disappearance a year ago of Hassan Abrams were described by a witness at today's session of the trial of Kamanis and George Metaxathis for the murder of Abrams a year ago today. Abrams' body was found several weeks after the disappearance in the cellar of Kamanis' store.

BOSTON BACHELORS' BALL TONIGHT GREAT SOCIAL FEATURE OF CURRENT SEASON, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Names of Highly Placed Society Youths Appear on Roll of Entertainment Committee for Event That Keeps Girls' Hearts Aflutter.

ON THE BOSTON CALENDAR, FOR LO THESE SEVERAL YEARS, THERE has been what may be termed a "fixed date" dedicated to an affair exceedingly exclusive. It is the Bachelors' Ball, that has year in and year out occupied the evening hours of the Friday immediately preceding Washington's Birthday. The annual gesture of hospitality given by the town's very smart young men still unfettered by matrimonial ties is a unique party.

OF COURSE, THE PERSONNEL OF THE BACHELORS DIFFERS SOMEWHAT from year in year. Even the most immune (so considered) may succumb to the dart of the little blind god when it is carefully aimed. And, of course, as one bachelor thus gracefully bends to the yoke, another immediately steps into his place that the ranks may not be diminished. An even larger list than usual is this year entertaining. Robert Lancaster, Dudley L. Pickman, Jr.; John O. Stubbs, the Cabots, Charles C. and Powell M.; Roger Amory, William C. Coolidge and Amory Coolidge are on it.

THE NAME OF FRANCIS MINOT WELD DOES Bachelors' Ball cards. Amory Coolidge steps into directorial position—a young man extremely well fortified to see that Bachelors' tradition is upheld. Since the affair is the season's very swankiest; since the guests' list is pruned to a nicety; since debutantes are not asked; and since fair and vivacious moderns are for the most part on the bachelor list it naturally follows that invitations are eagerly accepted. To receive an invitation gives one the cachet every girl and matron desires.

RARELY HAS A MORE attractive young girl than Miss Mary Frances Oakes slipped on the significant finger the token that has an orange-blossom finale. Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Oakes of pleasant "Southwood" in Brookline (the mansion of the many chimneys) and younger sister to two super-attractive girls—the Misses Elisabeth and Virginia Oakes—her social progress has followed conventional Boston lines. With two sisters to guide her of course she "made" the Junior League and the Vincent Club, just as the successful debutante should, in Boston.

MRS. HENRY PARSONS KING, JR.

A smart set ornament, who can arrange a sport event with dispatch and finish. The smooth running of last week's squash racquets state championship for women, at the Harvard Club, was due to Mrs. King.

HOLLIS HUNNEWELL being the fortunate youth to capture the fair Miss Oakes, there is forecast an alliance having all the prerequisites—youth and personal charm, blue blood from distinguished lineages and much, oh very much, of this world's goods to bless the union. Miss Oakes has been in Paris, studying, under the duennaship of her maternal aunt, Miss Elizabeth Prather. Scarcely had the ink dried on the formal announcement, than Mr. and Mrs. Oakes hied themselves to Paris, with their daughter, Miss Virginia Oakes, to make a family party of it.

MR. HUNNEWELL, bridegroom-elect, had hied himself to Paris a short week in advance of the family's departure; in truth he must have just been stepping ashore on French soil on the day when the gladsome engagement news became known here. Now there are some weeks of Paris and the Riviera on the cards before the return journey commences for them all. And France to the Oakes girls is merely a second home—for as regularly as the seasons changed and summer came, the Oakes family went a-traveling to foreign parts. Just as regularly as a huge Christmas party was staged each year at "Southwood" in honor of a debutante daughter. Certainly the social paths of the three girls have been lighted brilliantly.

THE STEAMSHIP PARIS carried the Oakes family across the Atlantic. The same grayhound had aboard, on the same passage, Mrs. Charles Pelham Curtis, Jr., Alexander Donald, son of Malcolm Donald of Milton, and an important trio of matrons traveling en suite—Mesdames Edwin S Dodge, Arthur E. Davis and Guy Murchie. The current crossing is, to all three, a not unusual undertaking since each is an inveterate traveler.

Dr. Sarah Ellen Palmer of Cambridge Visiting in Bermuda

BERMUDA'S SUN DAPPLED waters and cedar scented breezes, to say nothing of the brilliant official-military life of the mid-ocean resort, bring winter visitors from the world's four corners. Dr. Sarah Ellen Palmer of the Hotel Cambridge, Beacon st., is doing a month of Bermuda. She is the guest of Mrs. A. Albert Clemons, officially a Washingtonian, but, in practise a world citizen. Mrs. Clemons and Dr. Palmer will be at the Princess Hotel during their stay in the Summer Isles.

EARLY IN THE SPRING Dr. Palmer goes abroad, her usual custom for the summer. First to England, for a round of country house visits; journeys through and about Wales; then to Paris and many friends in the French capital made during professional life (Dr. Palmer is a noted woman surgeon), and thence southward to Spain. Although Dr. Palmer is, as I say, a surgeon of note, her metier now to which she is devoted is the lecture platform. Hence her frequent journeys in the Old World's romantic sport spots. They furnish, under her aimable wit and fertile brain, ample material for many a lecture.

BAUERS TO CELEBRATE WEDDING IN QUEBEC

Mayor and Mrs. Bauer will celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary with a trip to Quebec. They will leave Lynn Saturday night for a five-day trip.

The mayor was married February 21, 1893, to Fannie Miller, daughter of John Miller, Chicago shipbuilder, in Kenosha, Wis.

JOHN D., JR., TO SPEND MILLION ON ESTATE

Tarrytown, N. Y., Feb. 17—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., will spend more than $1,000,000 for the construction of highways, bridges, roads and tunnels to consolidate every portion of his vast estate in Pocantico Hills.

A week ago Rockefeller gave lands for a new highway and a bridge to the township. He donated $54,000 toward this project alone.

Console Model S-12

WITH BILT IN

Sonochorde Senior Cone Speaker

The Manufacturer says:
Model S-12

A RADIO console cabinet hard to equal in value. Has swinging doors in front of set and grille. Removable grille giving access to battery compartment from front. Made of genuine walnut plywood with stripe mahogany overlays on front. Has ebony finished molding effect around front. High-grade varnish finish rubbed. Top raises.

Outside dimensions:
24¼" wide 18" deep 43¾" high

The Manufacturer says:
CONSTRUCTION

THE construction of the Standardyne S-12 embodies some features that are worthy of note. The sockets are of our own manufacture and will take both UV and UX tubes, without the use of socket shells. This gives the sub-panel a neat appearance. The transformers developed in the laboratory of the Standard Radio Corporation under the trade name "Philharmonic" were designed to give considerable volume without distortion. They are of sufficient current carrying capacity to be used with power tubes should the user so desire.

The wiring of the Standardyne S-12 is a departure from the customary procedure. Soldered points, which cause a great deal of grief in radio Receivers, have been almost entirely eliminated. All wiring is made with formed bus wire and copper strips and is securely riveted to the sub-panel. This method of construction insures standardization.

The Model S-12 is a six-tube Receiver consisting of three stages of tuned radio frequency amplification, a detector and two stages of audio frequency amplification.

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Coolidge's condition was "much better" today, White House physicians reported.

Urban Shocker Retires From Baseball in Prime

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18—Urban Shocker, who won 18 games and lost six for the Yankees in 192[illegible], has announced his permanent retirement from baseball. As evidence of his sincerity, Shocker presented a copy of a telegram he sent to Business Manager Edward Barrow, which read:

"Received letter, due consideration of present state of affairs urges me to voluntarily retire from major league baseball for the furtherance of my business interests at home."

Shocker said he had invested practically all of his baseball earnings in a radio and electric business here and that he has determined to retire while in the prime of his baseball life.

"I am not a holdout," said Shocker. "The end of my career will come eventually, so why not now? I hold only the highest regard for Mr. Ruppert and Manager Huggins and I hope they will win the pennant next season, eased up."

Dartmouth Five Wins Over Penn in 'Tie' Game

Philadelphia, Feb. 17—Dartmouth took the lead in the Intercollegiate Basketball League race when it defeated Pennsylvania in a game that ended with a protest. After 15 minutes of play the visitors were leading, [illegible]

A mistake of the two college scorers cost Pennsylvania a tie and caused Penn to protest the game.

The fuss surrounded the result of the first half. More than 9000, including a group of experienced sport writers, had the count 17 to 10 favoring Dartmouth at the end of the half. The Dartmouth scorer and the Pennsylvania scorer had missed a foul by Joey Schaaf, and the count was 17 to 9 in their books.

There was nothing Referee Dave Tobey could do but look at the official books. He asked both men what the score was and then declared the score 17 to 9. Schaaf's foul was thrown out and this point cost Penn its chance for a tie.

A Story of Mad Moonlight Kisses and a Wonderful Young Girl

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

Jerry King, good looking, charming and 18, meets Saxon Rhodes, a young Boston architect, and falls in love with him at first sight. Marza, her fascinating mother, warns her that idealists like Saxon make unsatisfactory husbands. Although Jerry sees Saxon kiss Tess Willis, who has a great deal of money, she still clings to her ideal and refuses a marriage proposal from Heine Ross, a young suitor. The friendship between Saxon and Jerry grows and she confesses that she is madly in love with him. Late one afternoon she comes into his office and his uncle, to whom he owes everything, discovers him embracing her. The uncle insists that he go abroad to complete his studies and Jerry bravely tells him that she will wait for him forever. He goes to Paris. At first he writes frequently, then his letters cease. Tess tells Jerry she is going to Paris and will see Saxon. Jerry gets out five postals she has received after weeks of silence and becomes frightened as she realizes they are in a strange handwriting. At last Saxon writes that he has been ill and the postals have been sent by his nurse. He tells her Tess has arrived and bought a car and speaks of going on a sketching trip with her and two others.

She realizes Heinie is in love with her and he begs her to let him tell her something.

He pledges undying loyalty to her. She is consumed with jealousy as she thinks of Tess and Saxon.

She gets a long love letter from Saxon.

THE CONGRESSMAN'S SON

Alienist employed by my mother to annoy Frisby.

CHAPTER XI

Before going on with the story of Congressman Frisby's double life, are there any questions?

The little lady in black and white squared woven jumper with the apricot chiffon crystal embroidered skirt would like to know what happened in the Metropole Hotel after Frisby took up the collection for the mother of his child.

A hasty thumbing of available data fails to throw much light on that bleak November day.

My mother denies she ever received any of the monies thus raised.

Frisby, when asked point blank, always laughs and winks, and changes the subject.

Records in the House of Representatives show that Frisby was in his seat the next day, when he introduced a resolution demanding duller razor blades for the reason that so many people cut themselves with sharp blades.

Suffice it to say that nothing will be left undone to find out what Frisby did to care for his nameless child. The Pasadena police have volunteered to go into the matter.

Will you please correct the mistakes that was printed in the paper January the 13.

"She's a Septic!"

Many women want to be, deserve to be, and would be far more popular than is their lot. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call such cases septics.

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must remove their cause. The trouble is deep seated. Usually in the colon. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic. There may be a daily movement, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Nature is signaling her need of a little calcium.

Calcium works wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system sweet and clean, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. And you never need take another harsh cathartic.

Perhaps you are septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny bit of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You never need them if you take an occasional calcium tablet.

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them for 10c. Or the family size, 60c. Start this test today.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND.

WHAT makes the Tired Business Man so TIRED?

He has nothing on his mind but his bald-spot! Everything is lifted from his shoulders except the padding!

* * *

There are always at least two or more women ready to relieve him of all the petty cares of life and act as his memory, his conscience, his prompter and his date-pad.

There is his wife to remind him of his mother's birthday, his stenographer to remind him of his wife's birthday, and his mother to remind him of his OWN birthday.

There is his wife to wake him in time to catch the eight-fifteen—and there is his stenographer to hand him his finished mail and hustle him out of the office in time to catch the five-fifteen.

* * *

There is his wife to remind him to go by the tailor's on his way to the office—and there is his stenographer to remind him to lock up his cigars before he leaves and not to forget to mail his income-tax report.

* * *

There is his wife to warn him in the morning to be sure to see the dentist and have that cavity looked after—and there is his stenographer to remind him of his appointment with the dentist, and to call up the golf club and tell the boys it's all off for the afternoon.

* * *

There is his wife to keep up his reputation by going to church, his social standing by giving good parties, and his "culture" by dragging him to concerts and filling the house with highbrow books.

* * *

And there is his stenographer to keep up his business reputation by straightening out his dates, inventing his alibis and lying him out of his scrapes.

There is his wife to write his letters to his mother—and there is his stenographer to take down his letters to his wife.

There is his wife to keep her eye on his stenographer—and his stenographer to scare off other women.

* * *

Oh, yes, every man needs at least two women in his life. One for Sundays, holidays and evenings, one for week days—and many others for a CHANGE!

So WHAT makes the Tired Business Man TIRED?

Are You Nervous, Run Down, Weak?

To have "pep" and ambition, and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac three times a day before meals.

Mrs. Emma Yockell, of 41 Buckingham St., Hartford, Conn., says: "Since taking Tanlac I can eat anything, have gained 9 lbs. and sleep well. No more dizzy spells or headaches—I get up in the morning feeling fine!"

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

HE'S MAKING JAZZ CLASSICAL

HUB MUSIC LOVERS HAIL NATIVE SON'S CONCERT DEBUT
Leo Reisman, who will make his concert debut at Symphony Hall, Sunday, with his orchestra, aspires to do with jazz music exactly what Henry did with Lizzie—give it enough polish and sang froid and eclat to pass for a lady. He will try to make jazz real art.

TODAY

thanks that Uncle Sam was not saddled with any war mandate in the war excitement. He lent ten billion dollars which he won't get back, and got prohibition, which is about all he can manage.

Some preachers tell President Coolidge it is "not Christ-like" to demand a big navy and preparation for war. The President can reply that other nations did not show any particular "Christ-like," tendencies, in the big war, also that when that war came, many clergymen were enthusiastic about the duty to buy bonds and kill Germans.

If another war came and found us unprepared—as it would just now, since we have no flying machine fleet—the clergy would join with 120,000,000 others in asking President Coolidge: "Why didn't you get ready?"

The conference at Havana is about over. And as Mr. Rogers says, Uncle Sam is to be congratulated on going into a conference without losing anything, no battleships scrapped to oblige nations that couldn't afford to compete, no silly promise not to fortify Guam, or do anything without the consent of Britain, France or Japan.

The Argentine Republic wanted to rewrite the United States tariff, to compete with American farmers. But the Argentine didn't have Balfour as representative, so this country said no. We can handle little republics. Britain is too much for us.

Last year, this country spent $600,000,000 for radio products, machines and parts. Nineteen hundred and twenty-eight will see the first radio presidential campaign. The world changes swiftly, waking itself readily to methods.

Radio employs 300,000 people, and broadcasting reaches 90,000,000.

'JAZZ' IS ART, REISMAN SAYS

"Jazz" is not jazz.

A paradox? No, for Leo Reisman, Boston boy who makes his concert debut at Symphony hall next Sunday evening, has proved it during the last five years, according to leading music critics.

While other modern music makers were blaring with brass and ringing cow bells, in the sacred name of music, Reisman, a product of Boston's public schools and the New England Conservatory, elected to play modern music, but to play it in his own way.

At English high school Reisman played his fiddle. At the conservatory he studied the finer art. After that he played with his dance orchestra, but his dance orchestra was different. It was so different that one of America's leading composers has written his first modern composition and dedicated it to the humble Boston musician.

Charles Martin Loeffler is the composer and his contribution to the new American music is "Clowns," which will feature Reisman's program next Sunday evening.

"Modern American music is not jazz," says Reisman. "If properly interpreted it is an art. It is beautiful. What if it is a mixture of the jungle, the Indian war dances, the sidewalks of New York, or anything else? It is a folk music and as such should be given its due in the work of interpretation."

The country's leading music critics are watching Boston this week and next Monday will tell their followers what the Boston music-maker has done and how he has done it.

RADIO DIALOG

TONE quality is one of the features of radio reception generally overlooked in the purchase of a receiving set. The old days when the faint whisper of a distant voice pulled in through a single peanut tube gave the thrill of a lifetime still hold their sway.

Many a proud owner afflicts the ears of visitors with roars and squeals and howls supposed to be the world's finest music out of the world's finest receiving set. Clearness and naturalness of tone mean very little if anything to the average listener, and the great desideratum is terrific volume and unbelievable distance.

THIS condition is the chief reason that many fine musicians have been reluctant to participate in the great national pastime of radio, either as entertainers or even as listeners.

It is a fact, however, that the day-by-day and hour-by-hour program as issued by even the most mediocre radio station, is of a high degree of tonal excellence. If it was possible for listeners to receive the musical and spoken programs of the various stations exactly as they leave the station amplifiers, the radio public would awake to a new realization of the wonders which this science has accomplished.

THE only reason that programs are not being received in the same condition as they leave the lips of the performers, is that most radio receiving sets now in use are bad acoustically. Many loud speakers spoil the receptive qualities of otherwise good sets. Organ programs, particularly, suffer by poor reception conditions.

There are plenty of good receiving sets on the market, and plenty of good loud speakers. The radio listener, shopping for a new set, should look for quality of tone and longe range, that is, find a set which will take in all the customary wave bands. This latter is a more important feature to look for than volume of tone or extreme distance-getting ability.

WOMEN listeners should benefit by the financial broadcasts sent out from WLOE every Thursday noon by Frank McLoon, financial editor of the Boston Evening American. These talks are given with the thought that women investors who are increasing in numbers every week, wish to have clear indication of the difference between speculative and solid investment types of securities.

Popular theatrical entertainers contributed to the Dodge Brothers period from WEAF-WEEI last night. Musical comedy bits were conspicuous in the program. Frank Black, Elliott Shaw, Andy Sanella, Earl Oliver, Joe Green and Lou Raderman were among the feature performers.

FRANK MUNN, popular tenor, sang "Only a Rose," during the Ampico hour, heard locally over WBZA. Among the orchestral numbers was an arrangement of "The Firefly," by Friml.

Willard Robison, negro tenor, sang spirituals during the Maxwell hour, put out through the Blue Chain. These spirituals are seldom amiss in a radio program, and they are doubly welcome when sung in such authoritative manner as was done last night.

TONIGHT'S "True Story" hour on WNAC promises thrills in New Orleans at Mardi Gras season.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON:
1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND:
1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Why Does Not the Senate Want the Power Trust Investigated?

Where does the trail of the power trust lead that the Senate does not want it followed?

The oil trust investigation disclosed scandal and corruption which involved some of the most conspicuous figures in public life, and which shows that money had been used to corrupt public officials and to finance party campaigns, and to put elective officials under heavy obligations to law-breaking corporations, and to disloyal, dishonest financial and political speculators.

There is every reason to believe that an investigation of the power trust will show even a slimier trail of corrupt influence and political debauchery. Why does not the Senate want the trail uncovered?

Is it because the elections are at hand and the time is ripe for campaign contributions from the great privilege seeking trusts? Or is it because the trail leads to the door of public officials whom the senators have reason to protect?

Why does the Senate desire to shield the vicious power trust lobby? The President did not hesitate to attack these demoralizing, these treasonable lobbies.

Why does the Senate protect them? There must be a reason. What is it?

Senator Norris Should Press Plan for Power Lobby Probe

The Senate, by defeating the Walsh resolution for a thorough-going investigation by the Senate of the financing and other aspects of the public utility companies of the United States, still finds itself faced with the other side of this great issue.

That issue is the lobby conducted by these power companies—the most formidable lobby ever to raise its head in the national capital, the most dangerous to the free institutions of this country.

And so we must congratulate and encourage Senator Norris of Nebraska, who, on the very day of the defeat of the Walsh resolution, proposes that the Senate now go immediately into a thorough probing of this lobby.

As a matter of fact, the activity of the power lobby is for the moment as important a matter for investigation as the financing of the companies behind the lobby.

Senator Norris has the initial support of fellow Senators on both sides of the political fence and if the Senate is to protect its own good name and dignity, this support must necessarily grow at once to such proportions that the projected investigation will follow.

Senator Norris and those who support him for an immediate study of the power lobby situation in Washington will do more to remove suspicion of the Senate's action on the Walsh resolution than any amount of "explaining."

There is an immediate need for this lobby investigation and there is need for a most ENERGETIC and thorough-going investigation.

Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, meanwhile, has suggested another resolution to require paid lobbyists to register, state the nature of their business, and tell who is hiring them.

He would also empower committee chairmen to require all who appear for or against pending bills to say by whom they are employed, if by anybody. Any committee member could require employers of lobbyists to appear, give names of all lobbyists employed by them, and account for all sums spent or promised in connection with such lobbying. The Senate by majority vote could require the same publicity.

Such a measure should, by all means, be adopted.

But meanwhile the plan of Senator Norris for an investigation of the power lobby should be adopted and vigorously prosecuted.

ETERNAL CHILDREN ONES WHO DIE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

SOMEBODY said that a man has four ambitions: to plant a tree, to write a book, to build a house and to beget a son.

There is something peculiarly satisfying to a man when he has a son. It may be a survival of the old feeling that one must have an heir to inherit his estate.

In China they sometimes drown the girl babies because they do not want so many girls around, and prefer boys.

The affection between a man and his son is peculiarly tender. It is not the same kind of feeling that he has for his wife or for his daughter.

Somehow the son seems to carry on his own personality and when he looks at him he feels that his life has not been in vain.

A man at a banquet the other day got up and said:

"I am lonely. Nearly every man here tonight has his son with him. I have only the memory of mine."

Then he disclosed the fact that his son was somewhere in France either in an unmarked grave or lying unidentified near some wire fence or in a ditch.

The father wanted to go, but he was too old; they wanted young men. The son never came back.

It may be a faint consolation, but this boy has one advantage in that he will always be a boy.

We lose our children in two ways. They either die or grow up. In either case they separate from us.

The eternal children are the ones who die. They always linger in our memory as children. They will always be children.

But those who grow up and develop their own personality and individuality swing away from us.

Perhaps after all the loneliest person is the one who has seen his loved ones grow away from him, rather than the one who has lost them by death.

The latter has them always with him in his memory, but to the former that memory is clouded by the reality.

Prohibition

For Some an Excellent Law

With what success is the Volstead law being administered throughout the country?

Here is a fact or two taken from the record, and submitted free of rancor and without argument.

The number of persons fined for violations of the liquor law in 1927 was 22,444.

In order that you may have a picture of just what the figure means it may be set down that the population of Watertown is 21,457; that of Gloucester, 22,947.

But that is not all of the story. The number of cases PENDING at the close of the fiscal year was 20,173.

Compare that figure with the population of Arlington, 18,665; or with that of Beverly, 22,561.

Add the two groups together and you find that of the hundreds of thousands of Americans who snapped their fingers at so-called prohibition last year 42,617 were CAUGHT.

The number is almost exactly the population of Salem, 42,529.

We hear of one former bartender who never had a dollar in his life until prohibition came along. Now, he has his "cars," carries a chauffeur on his payroll and talks in "grands"—meaning thousand-dollar bills.

He's a bootlegger.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Thoughts while strolling: Whatever became of parched corn? The ladies who eat at Schraft's alone. Taxi drivers with change slots like street car conductors wear. Actors with those rakish Fedoras. Aberdeen dogs resembling tired old men.

The sepulchral noises from subway gratings. Russell Patterson, the illustrator. The blurry-bright of quick photo shops. Children sidewalk hopscotching to keep warm. Those apple cheeked youths who gaze upward in Times Square, looking scared and countrified.

Murmuring voices. Drifting shapes. Ancient notion stores refusing stubbornly to vanish. Buttons, hooks and eyes, garter rubber, hair pins, cheesecloth—and withered old saleswomen in black aprons. Women in auto back seats who seem always ready to jump.

An old woman with one tooth eating an apple. Surely fascinating to watch. White wings who smoke pipes upside down. Pastry windows with green and pink icing. And snarls of frosting. The hearty bluster of newspaper wagon drivers. A barber pole with a music box attachment.

A crash, shower of broken glass and a policeman's whistle. No one hurt, but a lot of cursing. Waddling ladies with bulging eyes in huge mink coats. The Ernies, Bennies and Jacks with their brittle Broadway talk. How's tricks? So, so. Gimme a cigarette. Pipe the Jane with the neat ankles! Thanks for the spinach!

The old acrobat in a wheel chair. Once jumped three camels in a row. But one night he missed. Al Freuh, the caricaturist—a Lima (Ohio) boy who made good in the city. Broadway's high art salon placarded with gaudy signs. Key makers. Hat cleaners. And shoe repairers.

How curious the clop clop of a horse on New York streets! Major Bowes—Margaret Anglin's husband. Whatever became of Ferdinand Pinney Earle and that affinity business? The first rush homeward. The cloud gray haze before dusk. And a red sky at evening.

ALONG the Ohio river I remember Capt. Barrows, of the Steamer Neva, used to quote "Red sky at morning—the shepherd's warning. Red sky at night—the shepherd's delight." Yet the sky sign is not infallible. New York has many red skies when the sun falls, and by midnight the city is likely to be in the grip of a heavy rain or snow storm. And a red morning sky hereabouts generally means a fair, sunshiny day.

DESPITE all the fascination of the leaping, zig-zaggy electric signs on Broadway, I have yet to find one as fascinating as the trick tin signs of 25 years ago. I can remember one especially heralding the wonders of a pill. It seemed to be a background of wood bristling with horizontal and vertical strips of tin. Facing it squarely you read one sentence and walking away either to the left or right you read a different sentence. What a thrill!

ASTORIA, L. I., is the taxi chauffeur's domestic paradise. Hundreds of young married drivers live there, owning their own homes with gardens and porches. In the taxi world it is the mark of affluence and becomes the dream of every hacker who desires to be somebody. Astoria is a pleasant looking suburb, a very short distance from midtown New York.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

GORILLAS—Ugh! Horrible beasts! The very name is fanged and hairy. And yet, beneath those matted chests, behind those bloodshot eyes—

Here is a story about gorillas. It may make you feel different about all little, darkened eyes and brutal shapes—gorilla or human.

Alfred Aloysius Horn tells this story in his diverting tale of jungle life, "TRADER HORN." As you read it, try to feel and smell the jungle, looming behind the words—the steaming, quivering air—the ooze or rotting loam and spongy growth—the sense of Things that crawl and crouch and slink behind the matted fronds—the cruelty and lust and fear that brood over everything like greater beasts.

"I stayed two days at Ehwa Mpoloor," says Trader Horn, "and went gorilla hunting on the second day. I managed to shoot one large female. The animal was sitting peacefully playing with something near her, close to an old tree stump. She was only two hundred and fifty yards off when I fired. She fell forward dead—the bullet had gone through her head from temple to temple. On approaching we found a young baby gorilla, which had gone to her breast immediately she fell . . . When she was dying she lifted her hand and put it on the baby. She—lifted her hand! . . . No man that's not homo stultus could stand it . . . I felt great sorrow and made a resolution I would never shoot another of these animals with their babies. It looked too much like murder."

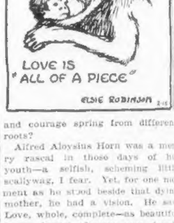
She lifted her hand—Poor, wild spirit, cooped in the most hideous of bodies—knowing no code save the fierce Jungle law—spending her brief life in danger and distress—yet, at the end, when all her ebbing strength rallied to one impulsive act what did she do? Did she try to save herself? Did she try to crush the man who had killed her? No. SHE LIFTED HER HAND TO SAVE THE BABY AT HER BREAST.

HER LAST HEART BEAT GUSHED LOVE.

A dying gorilla, clasping her baby to her breast—

A sorrowing human mother, hovering above her child—

What man shall say their love and courage spring from different roots?



LOVE IS "ALL OF A PIECE"
ELSIE ROBINSON 2-16

Alfred Aloysius Horn was a merry rascal in those days of his youth—a selfish, scheming little scallywag, I fear. Yet, for one moment as he stood beside that dying mother, he had a vision. He saw Love, whole, complete—as beautiful in the breast of some poor, jungle beast as in the heart of some sweet lady from Lancashire. He never quite forgot that vision. It altered his attitude toward his fellow men. He never again saw or treated negroes as merely pieces of flesh. Nor judged a heart by the body it wore.
